

House of Representatives U. S.,

Washington, D. C., May 15th, 1890.

Rev. Elijah Kilday,
Jerdontown, Tenn.

My dear sir:

It affords me as much pleasure to convey the news to you, as it does for you to receive it, of the passage by the House of Representatives of House bill 9782 granting you a pension. I obtained, this day, unanimous consent for the consideration of the bill, and it passed without a dissenting voice.

I will follow it over to the Senate and see that it goes through there, of which there is no doubt, and you will get your pension this session. Be assured
